A gift of Obsession's Celebration cookbook, signed by Nigel – Over 100 recipes by more than 50 chefs of the last 10 years (value £30 per couple)

At 60, Ken Hom, who resides in France and Thailand – but travels tirelessly all over the world, continues to appear regularly as a celebrity chef, write new books and keep an involvement with restaurants worldwide. In June 2009 he was awarded with an honorary OBE for Services to Culinary Arts, recognising his achievements and the impressive social and historical impact he has made on the way the UK has 'adopted' Chinese cuisine, which has now become one of the nation's favourites. In September 2007, he was awarded with an honorary doctorate from Oxford Brookes University for his 'outstanding success within the international food world' and to recognise him as one of the world's most notable chefs with a highly successful career in the media, as an entrepreneur and as a supporter of charity and education. He was then appointed as Founding Patron of Oxford Gastronomica, the Centre for Food, Drink and Culture at Oxford Brookes University.

Since September 2008, he has become an ambassador for Action Against Hunger, the humanitarian charity which works in over 40 countries helping families to feed their children and build a sustainable life.

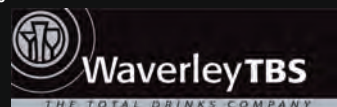

Ken is a living legend and this will be his first opportunity to attend an Obsession festival. Having met Nigel through mutual acquaintance Atul Kochhar, a participant in Obsession 2009, Ken says that he is: "Most honoured and looking forward to the event. This will be a great opportunity to work with a great chef." Asked what he is expecting from the event, Ken says: "An evening of great friendship with good food and wine. I think it will be a wonderful occasion for myself and Lee, my sous-chef, to be working with Nigel and his team."

For their invaluable support our thanks go to this evening's sponsors
